Lee, Mrs. B. Cary Nelson, Mrs. J. Calvin Stewart, Miss Cally Corling, Miss Hallie Grambling, Miss Rose Kinzer, Miss Ethel Payne, Miss Emma Pallas, Miss Sallie H. Members of the club and extension committee, with Mrs. Hawes as chairman, are making excellent plans for good times for the girls at their new outing centre at Chestnut Hill.

The demand for the Country Club was created by the outing clubs which were organized at the close of the Rainbow Contest. The committee is a representative one, and there are several young business women on it. The club is an experiment, and it remains to be seen whether the business girls and women of the city are going to respond to the privileges afforded there.

Those who would like to know about the place and its attractions are invited to come out this evening to the Rainbow Contest. The committee is a representative one, and there are several young business women on it. The club is an experiment, and it remains to be seen whether the business girls and women of the city are going to respond to the privileges afforded there.

Young women are invited to be present, and an unusually good time is promised them.

Nine alumnae, dressed in the college colors and carrying the college banner with the motto and date, were Misses Josephine Dickey, Ruth Gilliam, Helen Vincent, Nannie Hall, Virginia Roberts, Mary Robinson, Ruth Gwathmey, Myrtle Bass and Gertrude Bendall.

Richmond Girl Maid of Honor.
Miss Grace Lee Briggs, of Richmond, was one of the maids of honor on Wednesday evening at the marriage in Newport News of Miss Phyllis van C. Edwards, daughter of the late Professor Leroy S. Edwards, of this city, and Mrs. Elizabeth W. Edwards, to James E. Abbe, Jr.

Mr. Abbe is a native of Vermont State, but has made his home in Newport News for the past twenty years. Rev. E. T. Dadmun, of Trinity Church, Newport News, performed the ceremony in the bride's home, which was beautifully arranged with decorations of hydrangeas and evergreens.

Mrs. Charles Epea presided at the piano, and played the wedding marches. Horace Epea was best man. There were four attractive little girls who held the ribbons—Misses Annie Belle Blankenship, of Baltimore; Virgie Hamilton, Anna Barrett Manville and Margaret Reynolds—who preceded the two maids of honor—Misses Grace Briggs, of this city, and Phyllis Willett, of Newport News, and made a ribbon aisle for the bridal party to pass through to the altar.

The ribbon girls wore dainty dresses of white, and the maids were sown in frocks of dotted Swiss, with hats

LACK OF BLOOD

A Source of Great Danger to Growing Girls.

What anaemia is, how to recognize it, and the value of the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be known by the mother of every growing girl.

Anaemia is simply lack of blood. It is one of the most common and dangerous diseases with which growing girls suffer.

It is common because the blood so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls are too frequently allowed to overstudy, overwork and suffer from lack of exercise. It is dangerous because of the stealing of the girls' appearance, and being well developed before its presence is recognized, and because of its tendency to grow so steadily worse, if not promptly checked, that it may run into consumption.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in all cases of anaemia, is well shown in the case of Miss Mabel Glenzer, of No. 1325 Cook Avenue, Lakewood, Ohio. "My sickness began three years ago," she says, "and the doctor said it was caused by my not having blood enough. I had sharp, shooting pains through the temples and back of the head, and my legs ached. I had no appetite, did not sleep well or rest at night and lost flesh so that I weighed but 90 pounds. The least exertion would cause fainting spells of which I had three or four a week. At times I grew dizzy.

"The doctor's treatment did not seem to help me, and he told some of my friends that he thought I had quick consumption, and that there was no hope for me. I had a cough that lasted a year.

"One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a Cleveland newspaper, and I gave them a trial. I found relief while taking the first box, and they encouraged me so that I kept on and was cured. Now I am a living example of the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills have also cured rheumatism, neuralgia, sick headaches, stomach trouble and weakness in women. A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," giving full information about the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in diseases caused by impure blood, will be sent free upon request.

Write at once to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.00, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

of baby Irish lace and beautiful green muffs of smilax.

The bride, in her embroidered lingerie wedding gown, with insets of Irish lace, entered the parlor with her brother, Leroy S. Edwards, who gave her in marriage. She wore a large picture hat of white lace, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley. Her ornaments were a set of pearls worn by her mother at her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbe received their friends at the reception which followed the ceremony, before starting on their brief tour along the York River in an automobile.

Richmond People Attend Wedding.
At the wedding of Miss Mary Blanche Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Golden, and David Coffman McKim, of Luray, Va., one of the prettiest weddings of the week in Virginia, celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, in Harrisonburg, Mrs. J. S. Stephens, of this city, a sister of the bride, acted as her matron of honor, and L. T. Berry, also of this city, was best man.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large assemblage of guests. Miss Edna Shaeffer at the piano rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march as six garden girls—Misses Vada Whitsett, Edna Glenn, Laura Payne, Edith Golden, Susie McKim, of Luray, and Anita Moores, of Staunton—entered the parlor, forming an aisle through which the bride party marched, preceded by Dr. B. P. Wilson, of the Presbyterian Church, the officiating minister.

The bride, who carried a bouquet of bride roses, wore a handsome gown of messaline satin, trimmed in pearls and lace, with tulle sleeves. The matron of honor's costume was of white, with a messaline, trimmed with princess lace, and she carried a large garden bouquet of La France roses.

Passing under an arch the bridal party proceeded to a large dining hall, where the ceremony took place. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Golden, and has a wide circle of friends through Virginia.

After the ceremony refreshments were served in the dining room; Misses Whitsett and Beard presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. McKim have been spending a few days in Newport News, later they will go to Old Point, Baltimore and Washington. They will reside in Luray, Va.

FINAL REPORT IS FILED BY RECEIVER OF MILLS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GREENSBORO, N. C., July 8.—In the bankruptcy court here to-day King & Kimball, of Greensboro, and James H. Foul, of Raleigh, attorneys for Caesar Cone, receiver of the Odeon Manufacturing Company, of Concord, and the Southern Mills, of Bessemer City, filed the final report before Judge Boyd. Upon the filing of Receiver Cone's report an order was made that the clerk issue notice to creditors and all parties interested to file exceptions, if any they had, to this report on or before July 26. Monday, August 2, was set by Judge Boyd as the date for the hearing of all matters relative to the final disposition of the affairs of these two large corporations. The receiver's report shows that there is now on hand the sum of $47,000. Of this sum it is expected that after paying the final costs and allowances enough will remain, besides what has already been disbursed, to pay the creditors in full.

Since qualifying as receiver of these mills, about two years ago, Mr. Cone's report shows that he has handled over $2,000,000. The total cost of administration, including court expenses, allowances to the receiver, the attorneys, creditors' committees, etc., will aggregate probably $75,000.

GOLDSTEIN'S ATTEMPT TO LIFT "LID" A FAILURE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., July 8.—Goldstein, who on last Sunday attempted to take off the "lid" in Danville by operating openly a soda fountain on Main Street, was convicted to-day in the Mayor's Court of violating the Sabbath and fined $10 and costs and put under a bond of $100 to refrain from the practice in the future. Goldstein continued to do business Sunday after being ordered by the Mayor to stop, and an additional fine of $10 and costs was imposed for contempt of court. Lane Neel, who kept his soda stand under a bond of $100 to go through it to get to the soda fountain, was fined $5 and costs. All of the cases were appealed.

Goldstein claimed that his religion being Jewish, he observed Saturday as the Sabbath and was under the law entitled to remain open on Sunday. This plea, however, failed to be accepted when witnesses were examined, who testified that Goldstein had not previously observed Saturday, but had worked at other trades. The State law allows any one who conscientiously observes Saturday as a Sabbath to do business on Sunday.

C., several days ago and secured the license necessary to marry Mrs. Stallings, but when he returned he found that she had changed her mind and decided to marry Mr. Barker, who had also been a suitor.

Supplemental Bill Filed in Foreclosure Proceedings Against Norfolk and Southern.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., July 8.—The Trust Company of America, trustees under the Norfolk and Southern Railway's $16,000,000 first and refunding bond issue of May 1, 1908, in the Federal court to-day filed a supplemental bill of foreclosure calling for an immediate settlement by reason of default in interest on the mortgage for three interest periods from May 1, 1908, and to this end a sale of the Norfolk and Southern property, which has been in the hands of receivers since July 1, 1908, is asked.

The supplemental bill asks that "all and singular, the said mortgaged property, with the appurtenances, effects and franchises in said mortgage mentioned, or which may be covered thereby, may be sold in one lot and as an entirety, unless a sale in parcels shall be required under the provisions of section IV, article XI, of said first and refunding mortgage, in which case said sale to be made in parcels as in said section IV provided."

The supplemental bill calls for an answer by the defendant corporation at the next rules of the Federal court.
